

I went about testing the project manually, not fully using test cases like we did last project. I'm still not sure what the expectation is for the test cases, and I'm not sure about how to implement/ use them properly; don't think we talked about how nor why we do. I got lost somewhere along the way.